Amedisys Home Health can help you recover, manage your condition and live as independently as possible. Following the plan of care developed with your doctor, the home health care team can deliver the care you need where you need it most: at home. Home Health Aides help with daily self-care tasks like bathing, grooming, dressing and moving around, so you can stay independent at home.

Other services may include skilled nursing care, physical, occupational or speech thereapy, fall prevention, a personal emergency response system and more. Please call Amedisys Home Health Care in Lynchburg for more information.
