Imagine the difference you could make in the life of the residents or loved one you care for if you fully understood the physical and emotional changes Alzheimer's disease and other dementias cause.

The virtual dementia tour is a scientifically proven method for caregivers and family members to learn the specific sensory challenges that accompany the progressions of Alzheimer's and dementia. With deepened insight into the daily life of your loved one, you can provide the best care possible for both body and spirit.

Join us for a virtual dementia tour to discover how to create natural and supportive transitions through memory care for you and your loved one.
